CLUBDOM

"Stand By."

One of the loveliest spectacles of century week will be the centenary "Stand By" which war camp community girls' division, will present on the evening of May 19, and which all business girls and women will be especially invited. The different community service units will attend with their own banners. It will be held on the steps of the courthouse at 7 o'clock and will be prefaced by a short address by the mayor and Maj.-Gen. Traub, of Camp Pike. The principal characters of the ceremonial are Columbia and the City of Memphis. The former is magnificent in a shimmering robe of silver and blue with a crown of jewels in her hair, which have been placed there by her children, the cities. The city-tells Columbia.

"That just as your crown shines because each city's gem is there, so I in turn am nothing in myself... They come my staunch true comrades who ally themselves with me to make me straight and strong."

Then enter Law and Government, the latter holding a scepter. But Memphis warns him that he must "use it wisely or beware that he be shorn of it." Industry and Commerce follow, then Art, who brings with her the Fine Arts—Sculpture, Literature, Music, Architecture and Painting. While Art plays on her lyre the Five Arts give a Greek dance to the accompaniment of lamps. Then comes Religion, looking about to see whom he may serve, and Education—not a musty, cross, old man, but a keen, wide-awake young woman. Last come Play and Recreation, without whom the city would be incomplete. Memphis goes on to say that sometimes she is weary because of those who care only for themselves and not for her.

"But not tonight, for tonight there have come a band of clear-eyed young women to pledge to Memphis their love and loyalty," she adds.

The lines, clear-cut, simple and beautiful, lead up to a climax when the city welcomes these young women. The costumes, which have been designed by Miss Marjorie Turner and executed by Miss Turner and Miss E. D. Gailor, are particularly wonderful. The cast includes Miss Ellen Douglass Gailor, Miss Martha Fowles Johnson, Miss Ethel Clark, Miss Pittman, Miss Dorothy Summerville, Miss Grace Young, Miss Mahel Martin, Miss Florence McCall, Miss Edna Edmiston, Miss Minnie Wagner, Miss Marjorie Turner, Miss Peris, Miss Angeline Perkins, Miss Frances South and Miss Bernice Winston.

The feature number will be that of Mr. Walter Chapman, a pianist of such marked genius as to make Memphis proud of being his home. For Men

Beware!

Before you decide, Mr. Man, to buy that new Suit of Clothes—look around—it don't cost anything—but it might save you considerable and open your eyes.

This is a season of treacherous values, especially in Men's Clothing—for woollens have dropped in price close to fifty per cent—but too late to be of any service to those merchants who placed their orders early, and likewise too late for the manufacturer, who is compelled to anticipate far in advance of the season.

But not too late for us—we have taken advantage of the decline in woollen prices—have purchased our own woollens and are having them tailored in the new modes, by the foremost tailors of the country.

We invite your comparison of our Suits at $25, for Men and Young Men.
